Dear Parent/Guardian:

By now you are probably familiar with the No Child Left Behind Act (NCLB). It has been designed to help your child achieve more in school, and requires that all teachers must meet a specific, federal definition of “Highly Qualified” in order to teach in schools that receive federal funding. As you know, our school receives federal funds to support the programs we offer to your child.

We believe that all of the teachers working in our school are qualified for their teaching assignments. However, some teachers have not yet met all of the requirements for the federal designation of “Highly Qualified”.

The new law also requires us to notify parents if their child is being taught for four or more weeks by a teacher in a Title I school or program who does not yet meet the definition of “Highly Qualified”.

This letter is to inform you that your child’s teacher, _____, is in the process of meeting these requirements, and we are providing the support necessary for success. To ensure that every child in every classroom has a Highly Qualified Teacher, our school district is helping teachers meet the requirements of the federal law by providing several options. Teachers are able to take a test, or they can demonstrate their expertise through a combination of college coursework, professional development activities and experience.

Your child’s teacher is dedicated to the success of every child in the class. I thank you for your continued support of your child’s education and encourage you to communicate with his or her teacher on a regular basis so that together we can provide your child with the best education possible.

Sincerely,

Principal
